Britain's leading independent campaign for a bigger better railway for passengers and freight

Great Britain's Railways – attracting passengers 1947 > 2021

(with acknowledgements to reddit.com)

Railfuture members and others have seen and heard much of the Department for Transport's publication of their latest review, met initially with our press release "The end of rail franchising – will the passenger notice any improvement?" Our Policy Director Ian Brown CBE then published a comprehensive and informed critique in 'News and views' on our website.

One difference which some passengers will notice will come on Monday 21 June when some flexible season tickets will go on sale. As readers would expect of Britain's leading independent national campaign, we have already been saying this – and for quite a while!

We look forward to the next and we all hope final step, to be confirmed but for decision on Monday 14 June, and also set for Monday 21 June, provisionally, when all legal limits on social contact are due to be removed.

The overwhelming majority of rail users (95%) now feel confident about travelling in safety. Most rail non-users (59%) do too. Both figures are the best-ever in 2021! Source: Transport Focus weekly Tracking Research.

Britain's Growing Railway in London and the South East: happy birthdays in June!

~ on the 3rd, Mitcham Eastfields station, in 2008
~ on the 3rd, Meridian Water station, in 2019

~ on the 23rd, Heathrow Airport Junction <> Heathrow Terminal 4 via Terminals 1, 2 & 3, in 1998
~ on the 23rd, Heathrow Terminals 1, 2 & 3 station (later Terminals 2 & 3, now Heathrow Central), in 1998
~ on the 23rd, Heathrow Terminal 4 station, in 1998

~ on the 26th, Hitchin flyover, in 2013

Two error corrections, with apologies:

~ wrong, a year ago, to say no June birthdays!
~ wrong last month to say two Heathrow stations opened before the link to them; corrected above.

Our vision for rail: A railway system that provides services which travellers and freight forwarders want to use, and which offers more journey opportunities to more people and more freight.
